The Unspeakable Turk

Editor of the Farmer:—
Sir—I can't conceive of Turkey having any future unless she radically changes her policy and that right quickly.

You cannot put up a building unless you have a foundation, and in Turkey there is no foundation. This is a fair statement of the case. The only thing on which Turkey depends for continued existence, so far as I can see, is the quarrelsome tendencies of the European powers. Turkey would be driven across the Bosphorus within twelve months if the powers could agree on any policy to pursue. As the matter stands every foreign nation wants too greedy a share of the spoils, and the consequence is that not one of them gets anything.

Turkey is simply a bone with big dogs and several little ones sitting around it. None of them dares to rush in and take the whole, for all are afraid of the others. But if the time ever comes when the dogs shall consent to take each a mouthful she will be quickly disposed of.

The Kingdom of the United States is a kingdom of grace, glory and partnership with the King of Kings. For the who is the Sovereign of all kings and the heir of all things has made us the partners of His throne. What we ask therefore of the Christian brothers of Bridgeport is help for the poor Armenian.

Some Christians blame the revolutionists for this massacre. This is not right. Can you show me any country without any revolutionist society? Look at Bulgaria, it is small power, but has revolutionists and she lost a good many thousands of people. In a great nation in the world, but were once revolutionists until the English and the French came over to help. Suppose there came a day when you and I were to take away your wife and children, what would you do in that case?

I do not think any nation has suffered as these poor Armenians have under Turkish rule. They have been massacred for 450 years.

H. MELDONIAN.

AUTO IN FLAMES

TIES UP BROADWAY

New York, May 25.—When Broadway's theatre traffic was at full tide a few minutes after eight o'clock last night an automobile in which John H. Hagan, the wealthy shoe manufacturer, and his wife were on their way to the Lamb's gambol at the Metropolitan Opera House, was run into at Forty-first street by another machine. An explosion instantly followed and Mr. Hagan's car burst into flames. Its occupants jumped out and ran into the opera house, but for nearly half an hour Broadway was tied up for several blocks in either direction, and the excitement especially among the women, ran very high.

BURGLAR SHOTS MAYOR

AND ROBS A PRIEST

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, May 25.—A series of burglaries culminated in a climax yesterday when a burglar shot Mayor John T. Carmody. Mr. Carmody received a painful wound in the abdomen, and is now in a hospital. Just before entering Mr. Carmody's house the burglar robbed Father J. T. Dooney's home, and forced the priest at the point of a revolver to submit. The police are searching for the desperado.

RULES OF THE ROAD

The following is the new code agreed upon by the farmers' Anti-Auto-Protective Society, which has just held its annual convention in the different States in the Union:

- On discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must stop off side and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery.
- The speed limit on country roads this year will be secret, and the penalty for violation will be $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it.
- In case an automobile makes a team run away, the driver will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second mile, $200 for the third mile, etc., that the team runs; in addition to the usual damages.
- On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, ring his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.
- Automobiles must be seasonably painted—that is, so they will merge with the pastoral ensemble, and not be startling. They must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn, and white in winter.
- Automobiles running on country roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile, and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. They may then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting Roman candles.
- All members of the Society will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles, shooting and shouting at them, making arrests, and otherwise discouraging country touring on that day.
- In case a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.
- In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down to one mile an hour, and the chauffeur will lay the dust in front of the house with a hand-sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

The Newtown Inn has a large number of guests and a busy summer. The recent cold weather has made no change with the coming of guests.

The auto fever is becoming contagious in Newtown. Several new machines are expected next month. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meeker of Cemetery avenue, Sandy Hook, are afflicted with whooping cough.

The entertainment by the High School girls tonight begins promptly at 8.

Watermelons

And so you thought the business of a railroad was to haul freight and passengers from one place to another?

Dear! dear! how old-fashioned your notions are!

The chief business of a railroad is market-gardening, and the fruit is a luscious type of melon which the owners cut up for themselves.

A melon crop worth $400,000,000—perhaps more—has rewarded the gardening efforts of James J. Hill and his associates. Charles Edward Russell tells how two very able Boston lawyers got into Mr. Hill's history and laid bare every transaction in his remarkable melon-growing record. The results will make you gasp. For the first time in the history of giant corporations the whole process of stock watering is here set forth in clear, understandable style.

If you are interested in grocery or clothing bills—or if the cost of living affects your peace of mind—you need to read this article. It will help you learn why prices keep going up.
